

WAY TO WORK

BECOME A PART OF THE SOLUTION

At Way to Work we take poverty personally with a research based, one-on-one approach for moving families to self-sufficiency through employment. Change does not happen alone, and poverty is expensive as it hinders the growth of our local economy while employers face a shortage of reliable entry-level workers.

In addition to this cost, research shows that job seekers who are chronically unemployed or underemployed face multiple barriers which may include health, childcare, and transportation challenges. Job retention and advancement are not possible unless all such barriers are improved. Through our collaboration with nonprofits and Partner Employers, Way to Work connects local businesses to prospective employees who have completed a background check, drug test, and Job Readiness Workshop. Your investment will provide Way to Work Members with personalized coaching and coordinated services to help our neighbors gain and retain stable employment, while lowering the cost to our community. Together we can make change happen.
